

Do you like to visit other people's gardens, meet the gardeners, share ideas and inspiration?

We want to share our city gardens with you. So we are opening them to visitors, in the interest of a worthwhile cause.

Visit our website www.opengardenstoronto.com

Open Gardens Toronto is a program modeled on the National Gardens Scheme (NGS) in Britain. For over 80 years, the NGS has been raising money for worthwhile causes by opening private gardens to the public. In Toronto this year, 30 private gardens, grouped in different areas of the city, will be open to the public on the long evenings of spring and summer, on some Sunday afternoons and on weekend afternoons in the fall.

The proceeds from Open Gardens Toronto will go to charitable groups working towards changes in the lives of women and girls.

Entrance Fees

Entrance fees, payable in any of the gardens, are $4.00 for a single visit or $25.00 for a passport that allows unlimited visits to all the gardens.

Planning your garden visits

The calendar of garden openings is chronological starting with the first opening in April and ending with the last in October. Choose the dates that are convenient for you to visit a garden or a group of gardens in the same area. Public transit information and descriptions of the gardens follow. Start your visits as early as possible.

On some dates, it could take three hours to see all the gardens.

Visit our website www.opengardenstoronto.com

Or email us info@opengardenstoronto.com

April

April 21st Thursday 5.30 to 8.30 NORTH YORK AVENUE ROAD & WILSON

96 Bombay Ave. (Bella Seiden & Barbara Cooper) Bus: Wilson 96

This is an urban plant collector's garden featuring new and unusual perennials and dwarf conifers. Here you will find a range of plants that thrive in full sun to full shade arranged with a focus on colour, texture, and structure.

April 24th Sunday 1.00 to 4.00 PARKDALE

11 Melbourne Ave. (Barry Parker) Streetcar: Queen or King to Dufferin

A garden oasis in the middle of the city, divided into compartments, it contains an eclectic mix of interesting plants. It is well designed to make use of limited space and to accommodate growing collections of both hardy and tender plants.

May

May 4th Wednesday 5.30 to 8.30 NORTH YORK & NORTH TORONTO

122 Melrose Ave. (Janet Quenneville) Subway: Lawrence
The sunny front is covered in red granite gravel and is planted with lavender, dwarf evergreens and small trees. The back garden is planted with spring bulbs, peonies and clematis.
A checkerboard area is planted with sun lovers. There is no lawn in this long, narrow garden, home to this plant lover's favorites.

15 Brookfield Road (Susan Lipchak) Subway: York Mills Backing on to the West Don, this plant lover's garden features a pond, a woodland area beneath mature larch, spruce, pine and copper beech trees, sun/pt sun perennial borders including flowering shrubs and grasses, a rock garden and several herb/vegetable beds. Native plants and spring bulbs are incorporated throughout the gardens.

May 10th Tuesday 5.30 to 8.30 ETOBICOKE

20 Mill Cove (Kathy & John Chris) Bus: Royal York N 73

This garden contains light and shade, stone and water, foliage and flowers. Begin at a full-sun perennial bed, walk under a wisteria and clematis-laden pergola to a pond surrounded by rhododendrons and azaleas. A stone path leads you through a woodland garden of native plants to an alpine garden featuring unusual miniature specimens.

May 11th Wednesday 5.30 to 8.30 ETOBICOKE

55 Lambeth Road Bus: Royal York N 73

A horticulturalist and avid plant propagator gardens here. With a majority of the property shaded by large trees, spring sees an abundance of wildflowers, ferns and various Carolinian trees and shrubs. Interesting garden architecture and cobble work add a different touch to this sylvan setting.

21 Pheasant Lane (Joanna Bechtold) Bus: Islington 37 D
A naturalized front garden of rocks, cobbles and scree plantings.
A pond is the focus of the back garden with natural edge plantings and a perimeter walk. There are mature plantings of woodland, herbaceous and woody plants including hostas and day lilies.

46 Orchard Cres. (Marilyn Cornwell) Bus: Royal York S 76 Backing onto Mimico Creek woodland, this garden features a magnificent glass conservatory built in 1915 and moved to the property. The back is a series of winding circle paths with naturalistic plantings around a central arbour. The front invites visitors to a floral display that features tulips and daffodils in the spring.

May 12th Thursday 5.30 to 8.30 JANE STREET BETWEEN DUNDAS W & LAWRENCE

66 Denison Road West (Bev Sutton) Bus: Weston Rd. 89

Wildlife oasis on a bluff overlooking the Humber River. Visitors can enjoy two ponds, a reflecting pool and a greenhouse water wall. Unusual deciduous trees and shrubs, dwarf conifers and lots of Japanese maples provide a natural landscape for a 150-year-old farm house.

70 Denison Road West

If you would like to see what this gardener has growing under a 70 year-old and 70 foot-tall Norway Maple on dry, riverbank sand, please come and visit her garden.

76 Delemere Ave. (John Gell) Bus: Scarlett Rd. 79A plant lover's garden. In the sunny front, dwarf conifers, peonies, daylilies, blue-eyed grass, gazanias, delphiniums, peonies, daylilies, blue-eyed grass, gazanias, delphiniums, dahlias. Down the driveway, under a grape pergola, a woodland garden. In the back, a gold and green border, a blue and white border, a red border, and under pines, a Rhododendron bed.

May 17th Tuesday 5.30 to 8.30 ETOBICOKE

6 Echo Valley Road (Pam Collie) Bus: Burnhamthorpe Rd. 50 This corner garden is filled with magnolias, lilacs, redbud and other shrubs together with hundreds of spring bulbs. In mid-summer there is an eclectic mix of perennials with many daylilies and clematis.

6 Norbert Cres. (Diane Stasyna) Bus: Burnhamthorpe Rd. 55 This Victorian-coloured garden offers a variety of perennials framed by purple flowering mazus. Tulip bulbs greet spring while grasses and flowering bushes offer the gardener a promise of beauty to come.

May 17th Tuesday 5.30 to 8.30 SCARBOROUGH

56 Valhalla Blvd. (Sheila Halls McCarthy) Bus: Kingston 12

The grassless gardens include the front which is filling with various echinacea and the rear where there are hostas, a pond, birch trees and obelisks supporting clematis, hydrangea and porcelain vines.

14 Wirral Court (Hedi Stroempel) Bus: Bellamy 9

Many plants including snow drops, primulas, iris, roses and Japanese anemone have been inspired by hand-painted china. A pond and stream were designed to help drain standing water.

58 Cree Avenue (Alan Milliken) Bus: Bellamy 9

Flowering shrubs including rhododendrons, holly, weigela and a mixture of perennials and annuals fill the beds. A small pond adds the sound of running water to the garden while a sunny patio is home to various container grown vegetables.

May 18th Wednesday 5.30 to 8.30 ETOBICOKE

10 Bethnal Avenue (Marsha Gettas) Bus: Prince Edward S 66

Thousands of bulbs mixed with small trees, perennials and shrubs form the front garden along with sunny garden herbs and vegetables. Grassless, the paths are pea gravel. The back garden hosts shade loving perennials and sun loving vines like roses and clematis on obelisks. Everywhere are roses in this organic garden filled with texture and fragrance.

46 Orchard Cres. (Marilyn Cornwell) Bus: Royal York S 76 Backing onto Mimico Creek woodland, this garden features a magnificent glass conservatory built in 1915 and moved to the property. The back is a series of winding circle paths with naturalistic plantings around a central arbour. The front invites visitors to a floral display that features tulips and daffodils in the spring

43 Winston Grove (Sandra Niemy) Bus: Royal York S 76 Rhododendrons and azaleas thrive in the acidic soil under the beautiful white pine that provides the "bones" for this shade garden. A small perennial border on the east side is filled with continuous colour while a path leads to a "retreat" at the northwest corner of this relaxing garden.

May 19th Thursday 5.30 to 8.30 NORTH YORK

70 Rameau Drive (Myint & Jay Gillespie) Bus: Finch East 39 The front, side and back gardens are enjoyed from dawn to dusk in early spring to late fall. You can read and relax among sunloving plants and dine in the shade near a small water feature surrounded by woodland plants. The trees, shrubs, vines, evergreens, perennials and roses have been collected and placed for continuous colour and fragrance.

20 Hirondelle Place (Ruthanne Stiles) Subway: Woodbine. Bus: 91C or 91F

This plant-lover's garden emphasizes fragrant roses in a medium suburban space with a swimming pool. The garden is around the front, sides and back of the house. The back yard is well used from spring, through summer, to the fall. There is a good variety of different plants including small trees, shrubs, perennials, bulbs, climbers, annuals and some alpines. Several plants have been grown from seed.

May 24th Tuesday 5.30 to 8.30 ETOBICOKE

20 Mill Cove (Kathy & John Chris) Bus: Royal York N 73
This garden contains light and shade, stone and water, foliage and flowers. Begin at a full-sun perennial bed, walk under a wisteria and clematis-laden pergola to a pond surrounded by rhododendrons and azaleas. A stone path leads you through a woodland garden of native plants to an alpine garden featuring unusual miniature specimens.

28 Edgevalley Drive (Margaret & Jack Markham) Bus: Royal York N 73

In the shady front area with five trees are drought-tolerant perennials and shrubs such as Hicks yews, boxwood, variegated euonymus and bergenia. The sunny front bed holds oriental poppies and then hollyhock and black-eyed Susan. A cobblestone path leads to the back garden where a large pine cools the pool and deck. A sunny English garden is filled with iris, phlox, peonies, day lilies and lady's mantle.

May 26th Thursday 5.30 to 8.30 NORTH YORK

96 Bombay Ave. (Bella Seiden & Barbara Cooper) Bus: Wilson 96

This is an urban plant collector's garden featuring new and unusual perennials and dwarf conifers. Here you will find a range of plants that thrive in full sun to full shade arranged with a focus on colour, texture, and structure.

219 Ridley Blvd. (Reggie & John Morgan) Bus: Wilson 96 Ridley Gardens is a mixed perennial garden with a fine collection of dwarf conifers, perennials, hostas and day lilies. They grow hundreds of day lily introductions and more than a thousand day lily seedlings each year. Come and see how a day lily hybridizer's garden works!

May 29th Sunday 1.00 to 4.00 EAST YORK

179 Hanson Street (Paul Geary) Subway: Coxwell Bus: Coxwell 22

This small, corner lot overflows with bulbs, perennials, trees and shrubs that flower from early spring to late fall. The front garden features a Laburnum (golden chain tree) with selected shrubs that balance colour, texture and interest. The side garden uses a boulevard for a mixed perennial border. At the back, fences are planted with climbing hydrangeas, roses, clematis and a wonderful Japanese wisteria.

June 7th Tuesday 5.30 to 8.30 EAST YORK

505 Main Street (Dianne Dietrich) Bus: Main

The front garden features a pond and a Japanese Maple. The back has hellebore, ferns and vines thriving in the shade of old trees. Specimens include Jeffersonia Diphylla and Cypripedium Reginae. Created bogs support moisture loving plants. Visitors descend to the ravine and neighbouring gardens to explore.

523 Main Street (Kelly McGregor) Bus: Main

Bristlecone Pine, Abies Nana, and bamboo are features in the front. Birds are attracted to the vines on the way to the back. Intimate pathways and perennial groupings open to generous borders of perennials, grasses, conifers and shrubs that lead to a garden cottage. Paths of reclaimed brick and vintage lighting connect different themes.

June 12th Sunday 1.00 to 4.00 PARKDALE

11 Melbourne Ave (Barry Parker) Streetcar: King or Queen to Dufferin

A garden oasis in the middle of the city, divided into compartments, it contains an eclectic mix of interesting plants. It is well designed to make use of limited space and to accommodate growing collections of both hardy and tender plants.

June 14th Tuesday 5.30 to 8.30 SCARBOROUGH

56 Valhalla Blvd. (Sheila Halls McCarthy) Bus: Kingston 12 The grassless gardens include the front which is filling with various echinacea and the rear where there are hostas, a pond, birch trees and obelisks supporting clematis, hydrangea and porcelain vines.

14 Wirral Court (Hedi Stroempel) Bus: Bellamy 9 Many plants including snow drops, primulas, iris, roses and Japanese anemone have been inspired by hand-painted china. A pond and stream were designed to help drain standing water.

58 Cree Avenue (Alan Milliken) Bus: Bellamy 9

Flowering shrubs including rhododendrons, holly, weigela and a mixture of perennials and annuals fill the beds. A small pond adds the sound of running water to the garden while a sunny patio is home to various container grown vegetables.

June 14th Tuesday 5.30 to 8.30 EAST YORK

505 Main Street (Dianne Dietrich) Bus: MainThe front garden features a pond and a Japanese Maple.
The back has hellebore, ferns and vines thriving in the shade of old trees. Specimens include Jeffersonia Diphylla and Cypripedium Reginae. Created bogs support moisture loving plants. Visitors descend to the ravine and neighbouring gardens to explore.

JUNE CONTINUES ON OTHER SIDE →

523 Main Street (Kelly McGregor) Bus: Main

Bristlecone Pine, Abies Nana, and bamboo are features in the front. Birds are attracted to the vines on the way to the back. Intimate pathways and perennial groupings open to generous borders of perennials, grasses, conifers and shrubs that lead to a garden cottage. Paths of reclaimed brick and vintage lighting connect different themes.

June 15th Wednesday 5.30 to 8.30 NORTH TORONTO & NORTH YORK

122 Melrose Ave. (Janet Quenneville) Subway: Lawrence The sunny front is covered in red granite gravel and is planted with lavender, dwarf evergreens and small trees. The back garden is planted with spring bulbs, peonies and clematis. A checkerboard area is planted with sun lovers. There is no lawn in this long, narrow garden, home to this plant lover's favorites.

15 Brookfield Road (Susan Lipchak) Subway: York Mills Backing on to the West Don, this plant lover's garden features a pond, a woodland area beneath mature larch, spruce, pine and copper beech trees, sun/pt sun perennial borders including flowering shrubs and grasses, a rock garden and several herb/vegetable beds. Native plants and spring bulbs are incorporated throughout the gardens.

June 16th Thursday 6.00 to 9.00 SCARBOROUGH (No Parking 'til 6.00)

64 Wickson Trail (Judy & Ian Wisdom) Bus: Neilson 33

This 35 year-old garden is mostly shade but filled with different plants such as dwarf evergreens, roses, hostas and shrubs. In the back garden there is a pond and waterfall and a selection of annuals and tropicals for the shade.

227 Conlins Road (Roger Horan) Bus: Neilson 95

The front scree garden is two years old and devoted to plantings for the hot summers. The back garden has been created over the last five years by an avid plant collector. The style is formal with many wonderful surprises in every corner.

June 21st Tuesday 5.30 to 8.30 ETOBICOKE

48 Maydolph Road (Bev Dawson) Bus: East Mall 111

Situated on a large corner lot, various gardens encircle the house. They feature a wide range of plant material which has been specially chosen for this hot, dry site.

6 Echo Valley Road (Pam Collie) Bus: Burnhamthorpe Rd. 50

This corner garden is filled with magnolias, lilacs, redbud and other shrubs together with hundreds of spring bulbs. In mid-summer there is an eclectic mix of perennials with many daylilies and clematis.

22 Golf Crest Road (Helen Whiteman)

Bus: Islington North 37

The south front holds mostly dry-tolerant perennials and low maintenance shrubs and trees including a Japanese maple, blue spruce and cedars. A shady area west of the house features woodland poppy, hostas, heucheras and ferns. A putting green covers a third of the back yard and a black walnut presents challenges.

6 Norhert Cres (Diane Stasyna) Bus: Burnhamthorpe Rd. 55

This Victorian-coloured garden offers a variety of perennials framed by purple flowering mazus. Tulip bulbs greet spring while grasses and flowering bushes offer the gardener a promise of beauty to come.

10 Bethnal Avenue (Marsha Gettas) Bus: Prince Edward S 66

Thousands of bulbs mixed with small trees, perennials and shrubs form the front garden along with sunny garden herbs and vegetables. Grassless, the paths are pea gravel. The back garden hosts shade loving perennials and sun loving vines like roses and clematis on obelisks. Everywhere are roses in this organic garden filled with texture and fragrance.

June 22nd Wednesday 5.30 to 8.00 NORTH YORK

25 Orangewood Cres. (Bev & Dave Money) Subway: Victoria Park Bus: Victoria Park 24

A large rose garden highlights the perennial beds that surround this home. As well, there are beds of annuals, hanging baskets, containers and water features in many parts of the garden. Spring shows the flowering bulbs. These are followed by roses in June, day lilies in the summer and more perennials in the fall. It's of interest all the time.

20 Hirondelle Place (Ruthanne Stiles)

Subway: Woodbine Bus: 91C or 91F

This plant-lover's garden emphasizes fragrant roses in a medium suburban space with a swimming pool. The garden is around the front, sides and back of the house. The back yard is well used from spring, through summer, to the fall. There is a good variety of different plants including small trees, shrubs, perennials, bulbs, climbers, annuals and some alpines. Several plants have been grown from seed.

June 22nd Wednesday 6.00 to 9.00

SCARBOROUGH (NO PARKING 'TIL 6.00)

64 Wickson Trail (Judy & Ian Wisdom) Bus: Neilson 33

This 35 year-old garden is mostly shade but filled with different plants such as dwarf evergreens, roses, hostas and shrubs. In the back garden there is a pond and waterfall and a selection of annuals and tropicals for the shade.

227 Conlins Road (Roger Horan) Bus: Neilson 95

The front scree garden is two years old and devoted to plantings for the hot summers. The back garden has been created over the last five years by an avid plant collector. The style is formal with many wonderful surprises in every corner.

June 23rd Thursday 5.30 to 8.30 ETOBICOKE

10 Bethnal Avenue (Marsha Gettas) Bus: Prince Edward S 66

Thousands of bulbs mixed with small trees, perennials and shrubs form the front garden along with sunny garden herbs and vegetables. Grassless, the paths are pea gravel. The back garden hosts shade loving perennials and sun loving vines like roses and clematis on obelisks. Everywhere are roses in this organic garden filled with texture and fragrance.

July 7th Thursday 5.30 to 8.30

505 Main Street (Dianne Dietrich) Subway: Main

The front garden features a pond and a Japanese Maple. The back has hellebore, ferns and vines thriving in the shade of old trees. Specimens include Jeffersonia Diphylla and Cypripedium Reginae. Created bogs support moisture loving plants. Visitors descend to the ravine and neighbouring gardens to explore.

523 Main Street (Kelly McGregor) Subway: Main

Bristlecone Pine, Abies Nana, and bamboo are features in the front. Birds are attracted to the vines on the way to the back. Intimate pathways and perennial groupings open to generous borders of perennials, grasses, conifers and shrubs that lead to a garden cottage. Paths of reclaimed brick and vintage lighting connect different themes.

July 10th Sunday 1.00 to 4.00 PARKDALE

11 Melbourne Ave (Barry Parker)

Streetcar: Queen or King to Dufferin

A garden oasis in the middle of the city, divided into compartments, it contains an eclectic mix of interesting plants. It is well designed to make use of limited space and to accommodate growing collections of both hardy and tender plants.

July 12th Tuesday 5.30 to 8.30 JANE STREET BETWEEN DUNDAS W & LAWRENCE

66 Denison Road West (Bev Sutton) Bus: Weston 89

Wildlife oasis on a bluff overlooking the Humber River. Visitors can enjoy two ponds, a reflecting pool and a greenhouse water wall. Unusual deciduous trees and shrubs, dwarf conifers and lots of Japanese maples provide a natural landscape for a 150-year-old farm house.

70 Denison Road West

If you would like to see what this gardener has growing under a 70 year-old and 70 foot-tall Norway Maple on dry, riverbank sand, please come and visit her garden.

76 Delemere Ave. (John Gell) Bus: Scarlett Rd. 79

A plant lover's garden. In the sunny front, dwarf conifers, peonies, daylilies, blue-eyed grass, gazanias, delphiniums, dahlias. Down the driveway, under a grape pergola, a woodland garden. In the back, a gold and green border, a blue and white border, a red border, and under pines, a Rhododendron bed.

July 13th Wednesday 5.30 to 7.30 NORTH YORK

25 Orangewood Cres. (Bev & Dave Money) Subway: Victoria Park Bus: Victoria Park 24

A large rose garden highlights the perennial beds that surround this home. As well, there are beds of annuals, hanging baskets, containers and water features in many parts of the garden. Spring shows the flowering bulbs. These are followed by roses in June, day lilies in the summer and more perennials in the fall. It's of interest all the time.

20 Hirondelle Place (Ruthanne Stiles) Subway: Woodbine Bus: 91C or 91F

This plant-lover's garden emphasizes fragrant roses in a medium suburban space with a swimming pool. The garden is around the front, sides and back of the house. The back yard is well used from spring, through summer, to the fall. There is a good variety of different plants including small trees, shrubs, perennials, bulbs, climbers, annuals and some alpines. Several plants have been grown from seed.

July 14th Thursday 5.30 to 8.30 NORTH YORK

96 Bombay Ave. (Bella Seiden & Barbara Cooper) Bus: Wilson 96

This is an urban plant collector's garden featuring new and unusual perennials and dwarf conifers. Here you will find a range of plants that thrive in full sun to full shade arranged with a focus on colour, texture, and structure.

219 Ridley Blvd. (Reggie & John Morgan) Bus: Wilson 96 Ridley Gardens is a mixed perennial garden with a fine collection of dwarf conifers, perennials, hostas and day lilies. They grow hundreds of day lily introductions and more than a thousand day lily seedlings each year. Come and see how a day lily hybridizer's garden works!

July 19th & July 20th Tuesday & Wednesday 5.30 to 8.30

37 Old Mill Terrace (Sharron & Gary Colbert) Subway: Old Mill The gardens near the house, under a canopy of oaks, are a mix of shade and sun-loving perennials, shrubs and annuals to maintain constant colour. The beds lead to a "bench place" overlooking the Humber Ravine. Pine bark paths wind through large, shaded woodland gardens with a wonderful mix of perennials.

July 27th Wednesday 5.30 to 7.30 NORTH YORK

25 Orangewood Cres. (Bev & Dave Money) Subway: Victoria Park Bus: Victoria Park 24

A large rose garden highlights the perennial beds that surround this home. As well, there are beds of annuals, hanging baskets, containers and water features in many parts of the garden. Spring shows the flowering bulbs. These are followed by roses in June, day lilies in the summer and more perennials in the fall. It's of interest all the time.

August 7th Sunday 1.00 to 4.00 ETOBICOKE

6 Echo Valley Road (Pam Collie) Bus: Burnhamthorpe Rd. 50 This corner garden is filled with magnolias, lilacs, redbud and other shrubs together with hundreds of spring bulbs. In mid-summer there is an eclectic mix of perennials with many daylilies and clematis.

22 Golf Crest Road (Helen Whiteman) Bus: Islington North 37 The south front holds mostly dry-tolerant perennials and low maintenance shrubs and trees including a Japanese maple, blue spruce and cedars. A shady area west of the house features woodland poppy, hostas, heucheras and ferns. A putting green covers a third of the back yard and a black walnut presents challenges.

6 Norbert Cres. (Diane Stasyna) Bus: Burnhamthorpe Road 55

This Victorian-coloured garden offers a variety of perennials framed by purple flowering mazus. Tulip bulbs greet spring while grasses and flowering bushes offer the gardener a promise of

August 13th & August 14th Saturday & Sunday 1.00 to 4.00 EAST YORK

79 Oak Park Ave. (Stacey Shannon & Sue Wells) Subway: Main Worth seeing all year 'round, this urban, rustic garden is at its peak in the fall when there is a riot of fall blooming and fruiting species, especially the warm season grasses. Special attention is paid to native plants. In this tableau, you will find many different kinds of asters, goldenrod, viburnums and dogwoods. This garden is as much about habitat creation as it is about a welcome human retreat for the gardeners.

August 14th Sunday 1.00 to 4.00

179 Hanson Street (Paul Geary) Bus: Coxwell 22

This small, corner lot overflows with bulbs, perennials, trees and shrubs that flower from early spring to late fall. The front garden features a Laburnum (golden chain tree) with selected shrubs that balance colour, texture and interest. The side garden is a boulevard of mixed perennials. At the back, fences are planted with climbing hydrangeas, roses, clematis and a wonderful Japanese wisteria.

August 27th Sunday 1.00 to 4.00 NORTH TORONTO AND NORTH YORK

122 Melrose Ave. (Janet Quenneville) Subway: Lawrence The sunny front is covered in red granite gravel and is planted with lavender, dwarf evergreens and small trees. The back garden is planted with spring bulbs, peonies and clematis. A checkerboard area is planted with sun lovers. There is no lawn in this long, narrow garden, home to this plant lover's favorites.

15 Brookfield Road (Susan Lipchak) Subway: York Mills Backing on to the West Don, this plant lover's garden features a pond, a woodland area beneath mature larch, spruce, pine and copper beech trees, sun/pt sun perennial borders including flowering shrubs and grasses, a rock garden and several herb/ vegetable beds. Native plants and spring bulbs are incorporated throughout the gardens.

September

September 10th Saturday 10.00 to noon NORTH YORK

96 Bombay Ave. (Bella Seiden & Barbara Cooper) Bus: Wilson 96 See April 21st

September 11th Sunday 1.00 to 4.00 EAST YORK

505 Main Street (Dianne Dietrich) Subway: Main 523 Main Street (Kelly McGregor) Subway: Main See June 7th

September 17th Saturday 1.00 to 4.00

64 Wickson Trail (Judy & Ian Wisdom) Bus: Neilson 33 227 Conlins Road (Roger Horan) Bus: Neilson 95 See June 16th

September 18th Sunday 1.00 to 4.00 SCARBOROUGH

56 Valhalla Blvd. (Sheila Halls McCarthy) Bus: Kingston 12 14 Wirral Court (Hedi Stroempel) Bus: Bellamy 9 58 Cree Avenue (Alan Milliken) Bus: Bellamy 9 See May 17th

September 24th Saturday 1.00 to 4.00 NORTH YORK

89 Wedgewood Drive (Merle Burston)

Subway: Finch Bus: Cummer 42

The front garden expands with new additions each season while in the back garden there are new gardens as well. The raised area comprises a flagstone patio and pond. On the lower level, raised beds are filled with bulbs, grasses, evergreens, shrubs, perennials and vegetables, all carefully selected by this avid plant collector and many grown from seed. A network of paths and lighting after dark adds to its enchantment.

October 1st & October 2nd Saturday & Sunday 1.00 to 4.00 EAST YORK

79 Oak Park Ave. (Stacey Shannon & Sue Wells) Subway: Main See August 13th

October 2nd Sunday 1.00 to 4.00 EAST YORK

179 Hanson Street (Paul Geary) Bus: Coxwell 22 See May 29th

October 16th Sunday 1.00 to 4.00 PARKDALE

11 Melbourne Ave. (Barry Parker) Streetcar: Queen or King to Dufferin See April 24th

October 22nd Saturday 1.00 to 4.00 JANE BETWEEN DUNDAS W & LAWRENCE

66 Denison Road West (Bev Sutton) Bus: Weston Rd. 89 70 Denison Road West

76 Delemere Ave. (John Gell) Bus: Scarlett Rd. 79 See May 12th

> REMEMBER TO START YOUR VISITS AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE. ON SOME DATES, IT COULD TAKE THREE HOURS TO SEE ALL THE GARDENS.